STRATTON, LYONS TO BE SPEAKERS AT CEDAR CREST

Committeemen Plan Big
G. O. P. Rally for Friday Night

With a little more than two weeks before election, Antioch, Grant and Lake Villa townships will hold one of the biggest political rallies in the history of the western part of Lake county when William J. Stratton of Ingleside, Republican candidate for state treasurer, and other state and county Republican candidates will be guests at the Cedar Crest club on route 59, Friday night, starting at 8 o'clock.

C. K. Anderson, Chas Webb and Albert Friedle, Republican precinct committeemen of Antioch, have joined the committeemen of Grant and Lake Villa townships to make this rally, which will be followed by a free dance, one of the most interesting in the history of off year elections in Lake county. The entire state of Republican county candidates including Judges Perry L. Persons and Martin C. Decker, County Clerk Lew A. Hendee, Probate Clerk John R. Bullock, Lawrence A. Doolittle, candidate for sheriff, Allen J. Nelson, candidate for county treasurer, and Antioch's own W. C. Petty, up for reelection as county superintendent of schools, will be introduced and will make brief talks.

Stratton will be the principal speaker with Rep. Richard J. Lyons firing away with pertinent remarks on the state government and the political "grab bag" of the Democrats under the present administration.

Mrs. Edmund F. Vos, leader of the young women workers of the Antioch district, and William Hattendorf, territorial chairman of the young men, are planning to head large delegations of the younger voters of this district to the affair. The young voters from Grant and Lake Villa as well as from other sections of the county are planning to make a general holiday on Friday night as the guests of the precinct committeemen of Antioch, Grant and Lake Villa townships.

Two orchestras will play the music for the dancing which will follow the rally. Everybody, both young and old, has been invited by the precinct sponsors of the rally and dance to attend this affair.

Lake Shore Teachers To Meet October 29

The annual meeting of the Lake Shore Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association will be held Monday, October 29, in Waukegan. County Superintendent W. C. Petty has declared the day as an institute day for the whole county, and urges every teacher in Lake county to attend.

The main speakers will be: William Mather Lewis, president LaFayette college; J. Guy Fowkes, University of Wisconsin; and Stephen Lacey, lecturer and author.

How Governor Horner "Saved" $3,000,000

Governor Horner says his sales tax has saved the taxpayers of Illinois $3,000,000. But his statement should say that he has saved the corporations about $15,000,000 and saddled $50,000,000 on the washer women and wage earners who buy everything they eat, wear and use in Illinois. The children who have barely enough to eat and the poor men and women who have a hard time keeping them clothed and fed are penalized two cents out of every dollar because the Governor wanted to help the corporations in which he is interested.

Here's One for Ripley— Bridal Wreath in October

Believe it or not, Mrs. Anna Kelly, 688 N. Main street, Antioch, today displayed to her neighbors a large bouquet of bridal wreath which she picked from the plants at her home. These flowers appear in April and May and it is quite unusual to find the plants flowering as late as October 18. Ripley ought to know about this.

Freezing Weather Is Due This Week

Freezing weather is due in this locality this week, according to information received from U. S. Weather Forecaster C. A. Donnel. Temperatures of 32 degrees and lower are usually recorded in October, says a bulletin from the Chicago Motor Club, and the average period when freezing temperatures arrive in this area is from October 15 to 20.

The earliest fall freezing temperature ever recorded by the Chicago weather bureau during its sixty-one years of existence was on September 30, 1899, when the mercury dropped to 32 degrees.

START WORK ON ROUTE 173 PAVING

Mehlhorn Construction Co.
to Complete Two Miles of Gaps

The work of paving gaps on Route 173 between Antioch and Rosecrans was begun this week by the E. J. Mehlhorn Construction Co. of Algonquin, Illinois, who received the contract on September 20. The company's estimate was a little over $94,000.

The contract covers about two miles of paving, the longest of the 3 gaps being the just east of Antioch. With the completion of these gaps to the intersection with Route 59 the entire length of Route 173 will be unbroken with the exception of the Caladonia gap 15 miles east of Rockford.

COUNTY FIREMEN ATTEND STATE PARLEY

Waukegan Makes Bid for Annual Convention for Next Year

Twenty or more Lake county firemen today are attending the final session of the annual state convention of the Illinois Firemen's Association at Granite City. The convention opened Tuesday and will continue through today.

Chief James Stearns of Antioch headed the local delegation of five firemen, including the appointed delegates, Clarence Shultz, secretary, and Lew Van Patton, and Herman Rosling and Irving Elms.

The Lake county delegation, it is understood, has the support of surrounding counties of northern Illinois in seeking the 1934 convention for the city of Waukegan, which has never had a state firemen's convention.

ABANDON PLANS FOR AIR MEET

Due to the lateness of the season and the unreliability of weather at this season, the North Central Airways has decided to postpone its contemplated Air Meet until some date next spring. It has been announced by C. P. Schmitt, operations manager for the company. The meet was to have been held at Lake Villa.

Here's Efficiency In Government

Illinois farmers are told they raise too much corn. But Secretary Ickes is going out into Arizona and building a big dam to cost several millions of dollars to irrigate a sand pile and make it into a rose garden and corn field. And the Democratic administration is going into the Tennessee valley and building a big dam to make hydro-electric power to compete with Illinois coal miners, who are already only working a small part of the time. More Democratic efficiency for the people living south of the Ohio river.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kennedy were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hachmeister.

PARTY SWITCHES MARK RACE FOR SHERIFF'S POST

Elmer Green Campaigning for Tyrrell; Yager Supports Doolittle

The contest for sheriff which is always the center of interest in county elections in Lake county is presenting some unusual complications this fall. Rumors current following the spring primaries as to possible switching of party allegiance by defeated candidates and affiliates have come true, at least in part.

Leaders in Switches.
Two of the more important switches in party affiliation are those of Elmer Green, former sheriff and a former state official under the Republican banner who is now supporting Bart Tyrrell, the Democratic nominee for sheriff and Herb Yager, former Democratic candidate for sheriff who is backing Doolittle, the Republican nominee.

Reports that Edward Brown, of Round Lake, former candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, had switched to the Tyrrell organization were proven this week to be without basis. Brown is now out definitely and actively in support of the Republican candidate for sheriff. On the other hand the rumors of the possibility of a switch by James Lennon of Ingleside, unsuccessful aspirant for sheriff on the Democratic ticket in the spring, proved false. Lennon is supporting the Democratic ticket as a whole.

Taking it all in all, the divergence in party affiliations seem to be about even and may not result in any particular change in the results on election day.

Campaign in Earnest
With the election less than three weeks away both parties began a more determined and effective campaign this week. Political gatherings are the order of the day throughout the county and most of the meetings are attracting large throngs.

Probably the outstanding Republican gathering of the week was that held in honor of Lew A. Hendee, who is seeking reelection as county clerk, always a popular candidate, at Dietz stables near Mundelein. Estimates as to the attendance at this meeting run from 500 to 1,000 but at any rate the hall was crowded at all times, with many coming and going throughout the evening. State's Attorney Charles E. Mason acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced each candidate with a tribute as to his accomplishments and capabilities.

The Democrats on the other hand held a successful rally in the high school gymnasium, Wednesday evening. Approximately 1,200 attended the rally which was addressed by John Stolle, candidate for state treasurer, and candidates for congressional and county offices.

The rally ended a parade through the county starting with luncheon in the Hotel Moraine in Highland Park and it preceded a general gathering of Democrats in a party and dance at the Miami Gardens later in the evening.

Former Antioch Pastor Honored

Rev. Daniel J. Frawley, former pastor at St. Peter's church in Antioch, was raised to the rank of Domestic Prelate with the title Right Reverend Monsignor, Cardinal Mundelein announced at the conclusion of the dedicatory services last Sunday at St. Jerome's church in Chicago.

The conferring of this honor upon one who is so well known in Antioch and the lake region for his work in building the monumental white stone Catholic church on Lake street, will be of great interest to his friends here both Catholic and non-Catholic.

On the occasion of the announcement, St. Jerome's church which has a seating capacity of over 1200 was filled to overflowing. Monsignor Frawley's newly dedicated church is one of the most beautiful churches in the country. It is situated at 1709 Lunt avenue in the Rogers Park district.

THE SEASON OPENS!

NEWS ITEM: Taxpayers of Ohio and Michigan will have a referendum vote Election Day on constitutional amendments proposing to reduce and to fix state gasoline tax rates and to prevent the use of revenue from this special additional tax for other than highway purposes.

Simplifies Flag Pledge For School Children

In an order issued this week to principals of Cook county grammar schools, Supt. Otto F. Aken advised all teachers to discard the old "Pledge to the American Flag" for a new and simplified one which grammar school children will be able to understand.

The old one went: "I pledge allegiance to the American flag and to the indivisible with freedom and country for which it stands, one nation justice for all."

Supplanting this pledge will be: "I love my country, the United States of America, the land of freedom and right, and I salute our flag of red, white and blue which stands for courage, purity and loyalty." "The pledge to the American flag," commented Aken, "was just so many incomprehensible words for those in the lower grades. Children recited this pledge having only a vague idea of the significance of the words. The new pledge to the American flag cannot possibly be misunderstood by any child of grammar school age."

The County Superintendent's order will go into effect immediately.

"Gabby" Hartnett Plays at Volo Sunday

"Hartnett Day" at Volo Sunday, October 21, gives promise of being one of the greatest athletic attractions ever staged in Lake county. Baseball fans far and wide are planning to attend this big event, to witness "Gabby" Hartnett, the illustrious catcher of the Chicago Cubs in action.

Two good baseball teams, the McHenry Brewers and the Waukegan Beer Barons, will play, with "Gabby" appearing in the Brewers lineup and other noted stars playing on both squads.

During his entire major league career Hartnett has been an outstanding favorite with baseball fans. He is not only one of the best catchers of all time, but a fine character off the ball diamond as well. His annual appearance in Lake county is looked forward to with keen interest. A great favorite with the children, he always proves a real sport with the adult fans, and his long distance hitting gives the crowd a thrill when he takes his turn at bat.

"Bob" Brasch, former star pitcher of the Dietz Cubs, will manage the Beer Barons, with "Bill" Writz, a former teammate of Brasch, managing the McHenry Brewers.

"Gill" Bruha, a minor league star, will hurl for the Brewers. Klems will be on the mound for the Barons. The game will start at 2 p. m. Admission will be 25 cents and 15 cents.

Broadcast of Song Postponed

Mrs. Mary Mapleshorpe's composition, "Crede," announced to be broadcast over station WMAQ October 8, was postponed on account of program changes. It will be heard over the station October 24 at 11:15 a. m.

Religious Council To Hold Annual Meeting Thursday

The Lake County Council of Religious Education will hold its annual convention at the First Baptist church, Waukegan, on Thursday, Oct. 25th. The subject emphasized in the convention program, which has been distributed in the churches throughout the county, is "The Home and Christian Living." The discussion method of approach will be used in developing the subject in the morning and afternoon sessions.

The convention will open at 9:30 A. M. with a worship service, led by Rev. B. A. Gann, Waukegan, president of Waukegan-North Chicago Council of Religious Education, on "Christ and the Home," followed by two discussion groups, meeting simultaneously, one to study the problems of the rural and small town church, led by Rev. Loyal V. Stiller, of the Methodist Episcopal church at Antioch, and the other to discuss the work of the suburban and city church school, led by Rev. Clarence N. Wright, formerly Director of Young People's Work for the Michigan Council of Religious Education, and now Director of Religious Education in the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Chicago. The first session will close with an address by Rev. J. W. F. Davies, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Waukegan, on "The Home of Tomorrow: How Can It Be Made More Christian?"

The afternoon group will separate into three sections, to take up the different problems in the three main departments of the Church School, children's, young people's, and adult, under competent leadership. The Rev. Mr. Wright will address the convention on "The Teacher's Contribution to Home Life," following the afternoon discussion period.

Miss Helen A. Wright, formerly of Libertyville, now Director of Religious Education at the Second Presbyterian Church, Chicago, will lead the discussion in the Young People's group, and deliver the after-dinner address on "Ventures in Religious Education."

One of the features of the evening session will be several musical numbers rendered by the Bothany Evangelical Church Choir, of Highland Park, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Blaser, of the School of Music, Northwestern University, Evanston, who has done very creditable work with this group of young people. The evening address will be delivered by Judge Perry L. Persons, Waukegan, on "Delinquency," based on experience with delinquent boys and girls in Lake County courts.

Wide publicity has been given to this meeting, and representatives are expected from most of the cooperating churches of the county. Officers will be elected, and recommendations approved which will determine the organization's future plans and policies.

Miss Shirley Hollenbeck of Waukegan was an Antioch caller Monday.

FOUR KILLED IN ACCIDENTS DURING WEEK

Fruit Vendors Die in Crash
at Lake Villa Last Friday

Four were added to the automobile death toll in Lake county during the last six days.

Victims of the highway accidents were:

Abraham "Abe" Obsalof, 54, a fruit and vegetable peddler, 411 South Ulica street, Waukegan, and his helper, Paul Paulinkaitis, of the same address, who lost their lives at Lake Villa at 7 o'clock Friday night.

Edwin Bergstrom, 40, of 8041 Perry avenue, Chicago, killed in crash at Telegraph Road and the E. J. & E. crossing in a collision with a freight train.

The fourth victim was Emil Amundson, 60 years old, an employe on the Spinney Run dairy farm near Gurnee, whose battered body was found early Sunday morning at the side of Belvidere road near Thomas' Corners.

Obsalof Well Known Here.

Obsalof and his helper were returning from Wisconsin where they had been on a buying trip when the accident occurred. While there were no witnesses to the fatal mishap, deputy Sheriff Al B. Maler, of Lake Villa, who was called, believes that Obsalof's truck skidded on Route 21 just south of the Lake Villa community church, that the driver lost control and the car crashed into a tree. Both occupants of the truck died instantly, according to Dr. R. H. Gludich of Lake Villa.

Obsalof has been in the fruit and vegetable commission business for over 20 years and he was well known to Antioch merchants.

Edwin Bergstrom was a passenger in the automobile of his brother, Eric Albert Bergstrom, 45 years old, of 7515 Eberhardt avenue, Chicago.

Erik drove into the side of a freight train that did not stop. They were taken to the Alice Home hospital at the direction of Lake Forest police. Edwin was found to be dead. Erik received cuts and bruises.

Amundson was killed by a motorist in the opinion of Deputy Sheriff John Sweeney who with Deputy Sheriffs George Tiffany and Gene Palmieri, were called to investigate.

Amundson, according to what evidence deputy sheriffs could uncover, visited in Waukegan Saturday evening on a shopping tour. Then he stopped at the Tasker Inn at Thomas' Corners and had two glasses of beer. He continued on toward the farm about as far as can be learned.

Andrew Levine, of Rochelle, Ill., discovered the battered body at the roadside. Levine was visiting with the William Flood family at Gurnee and they advised the Gurnee telephone operator to summon the sheriff. Several cars had passed over the body, deputies believed.

Amundson had been employed at the dairy farm for nearly five years. Two daughters in Chicago and a son in Owen, Wis., were notified of the tragedy.

Inquest Held in Antioch.

The bodies of Obsalof and Paulinkaitis were brought to the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch where the inquest was held Saturday by Deputy Coroner Maurice Penney. The Bergstrom body was removed to the Waukegan morgue at Lake Forest, and the body of Amundson was taken to the Watzel & Petersen morgue in Waukegan. Verdicts of accidental death were returned in each case.

I LIKE THE DEPRESSION

Editorial by

Henry Ansley in the Amarillo, Texas, Globe News, discovered and offered for your amusement and happiness by W. R. Williams, of Antioch

I like the depression. No more prosperity for me. I have had more fun since the depression started than I ever had in my life; I had forgotten how to live, what it meant to have real friends, what it was like to have common every-day food. Fact is, I was getting just a little high-hat.

Three years ago, only one man of the News-Globe organization could be out of town at a time. He had to leave at the last minute and had to get back as soon as possible. Many times I have driven 100 miles to a banquet, sat through three hours of bunk in order to make a five minute speech, then driven the 100 miles back so as to be ready for work the next morning.

Nowadays, as many News-Globe employees as are invited make those trips and we stay as long as we want to. The whole outfit could leave the office now and it wouldn't make any difference.

I like the depression. I have time to visit my friends, to make new ones. Two years ago when I went to a neighboring town, I always stayed at a hotel. Now, I go home with my friends, stay all night and enjoy home-cooking. I have even spent the week-end with some of the boys who have been kind enough to invite me.

It's great to drop into a store and feel that you can spend an hour or two or three or a half day just visiting and not feel that you are wasting valuable time. I like the depression.

I am getting acquainted with my neighbors. In the last six months I have become acquainted with folks who have been living next door to me for three years. I am following the Biblical admonition, "Love your neighbors." One of my neighbors has one of the best-looking wives I have ever seen. She is a dandy. I am getting acquainted with my neighbors and learning to love them.

Three years ago I ordered my clothes from a merchant tailor—two and three suits at a time. All my clothes were good ones, I was always dressed up. But now, I haven't bought a suit of clothes in two years. I am mighty proud of my Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes. When I dress up, I am dressed up, and I don't mean maybe. I like the depression.

Three years ago I was so busy and my wife was so busy that we didn't see much of each other, consequently we sort of lost interest in each other. I never went home to lunch. About twice a week I went home for dinner—at 6:30 o'clock. I never had time to go anywhere with her. If I did go on a party, I could never locate her, and since there was always a "blonde" or a "Red head" available I didn't worry much about it.

My wife belonged to all the clubs in town. She even joined the young mothers club. We didn't have any children, but she was studying—and between playing bridge and going to clubs, she was never at home.

We got stuck up and hifalutin. We even took down the old family bed and bought a set of twin beds—on the installment plan. When I would come home at night, if my wife was at home, she would be in her bed already, and I would crawl in mine. If she came in first it was vice versa.

We like the depression. We have come down off our pedestal and are really living at my house now. The twin beds are stored in the garage and the old family affair is being used. We are enjoying life. Instead of taking a hot water bottle to bed these cold nights, she sticks her heels in my back just like she did before Hoover was elected.

I haven't been out on a party in 18 months. I have lost my book of telephone numbers. My wife has dropped all the clubs. I believe we are falling in love all over again. I am pretty well satisfied with my wife. Think I will keep her at least until she is forty and then if I feel like I do now, I may trade her in for two twenties.

I am feeling better since the depression. I take more exercise. I walk to town and a lot of folks who used to drive Cadillacs are walking with me. I like the depression.

My digestion is better. I haven't been to see a doctor in a year. I can eat anything I want to. I am getting real honest-to-goodness food. Three years ago, we had a filet mignon once a week, now we have round steak and flour gravy. Then we had roast breast of guinea hen, now we are glad to get sow-bosum with the buttons on it.

I like the depression. My salary has been cut to where I can't afford to buy lettuce and spinach and parsley and we can't afford to have sandwiches and frozen desserts and all the damfoolishness which has killed more good men than the World War.

I like the depression. Three years ago, I never had time to go to church. I played golf all day Sunday and besides I was so darned smart that there wasn't a preacher in West Texas who could tell me anything.

Now I am going to church regularly, never miss a Sunday.

And if the depression keeps on, I will be going to prayer meeting before long.

I like the depression.

CAUSES AND CURES OF DEPRESSION

"Nobody in the world knows exactly what causes depressions, not even Senators or Army officers," says Neil Carothers, Professor of Economics at Lehigh University, in an article in the New York Herald-Tribune Magazine. "The economists, who do know quite a lot about depressions, admit that they cannot isolate the exact cause. They know that it is not the gold standard or the stock exchange or farm prices or the rich grinding the faces of the poor. In fact, they know there is no one cause but a combination . . ."

"Depressions do not originate in non-capitalistic countries such as India. Economic breakdowns in such countries are reactions to depressions in capitalistic countries. Do not hastily conclude from this that capitalism is a failure. The non-capitalistic countries have chronic misery and recurrent famines. The awful spectacle of children starving to death by thousands is to be seen only in China, which has not developed capitalism, and in Russia . . ."

"Just as they hesitate to assign a specific cause for depression, so do the economists refrain from proposing a patent cure. They know that the one cure is that one remedy for all human ills—time . . ."

"Trying to force recovery by statute is like standing up in a sailboat and blowing on the sails. The speed of the boat is determined by forces outside it."

It is natural that we should attempt to abnormally force recovery, and it is almost inevitable that such efforts should largely fail. Economic laws which are as old as organized government cannot long be circumvented—precisely as these laws make depressions, they eventually present us with the cure. No one conversant with the history of this country can believe that it will not pull itself out of the doldrums—but natural, not artificial forces will deserve most of the credit when that is done.

Moved 500,000 Years Ago.
Early Stone Age men moved from the plains of India into the Himalayas during a time of mild climate 500,000 years ago.

Nature Refuses To Give Us Better Eyes, Lighting Expert Says

Primitive man did virtually all his work outdoors and the sun gave him between 1,000 and 10,000 foot-candles for daytime activities. Today most human work is done indoors and man still has the same optical equipment as his caveman forefathers. We are now trying to accustom that optical equipment to long hours of abnormally intense visual service under, subnormal artificial lighting. These facts are brought out by the new "Science of Seeing" developed by to nature's daylight conditions. It is subnormal lighting conditions.

Nature's plan was distant seeing under high light intensities from impossible to adjust nature's eyes down to darkness with easy visual tasks. Man's modern plan is close vision with low light intensities, working from morning to midnight on abnormally severe and prolonged tasks.

Our abused eyes are slow to protest. But eye strain punishes us indirectly with nervousness, fatigue and physical upsets. If we continue to abuse our eyes, they punish us directly and we pay the price of defective vision. Today one out of every five grade school children is visually

In many homes women are unknowingly straining their eyes to see by dim and improperly distributed light. The result is fatigue, headaches and even impaired eyesight according to the lighting specialists.

The "Keystone State"

On the Fourth of July, 1774, the Continental congress convened in Philadelphia to vote upon adoption of the Declaration of Independence and thus decide whether the thirteen colonies should secede from the British empire. Before the Pennsylvania delegation arrived, notes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times, twelve states had voted, with the result that six were in favor of independence and six were opposed to separation from the mother country. When the Pennsylvanians came in, John Morton cast the deciding vote for independence. Thus Pennsylvania, by its vote, decided the great issue and rightly earned the popular name of "the Keystone State."

The Six Toughest

The six toughest plants in the United States are the cottonwood, rabbit bush, aromatic sumach, a shrubby penny-royal, a yucca and the peculiar gymnosperm, Ephedra. They are so hardy that they are able to maintain themselves in the White Sands of New Mexico, a deposit that is 98 per cent pure gypsum, located in an area virtually without rainfall.

Bloeds Always Win

That men have always preferred blond hair is supported by a number of facts in history. One of the best indications is that in the heyday of wigs it was the blond ones that were at a premium. The dark wigs were cheaper and made of horse or goat hair while the blond wigs were made of human hair.

Stowing Ship's Canvas

Seventeenth century captain's orders to stow some of the ship's canvas: "Haul down the foretopgallant sail and maintopgallant sail! In with the spritsail! Let go the spritsail! Haul down the clew lines! In with the maintopgallant! Haul off the topgallant bow lines!"

"A certain egotism in the human mind," said Ill No, the sage of Chinatown, "persuades a man who is enjoying himself to believe that this fact alone should render others happy."

Why They Are Kisses

The small crosses or x's were at one time more important than as symbols indicative of youthful romance, writes O. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. Their origin dates back to a time when few people could read and, an even fewer number could write. Nevertheless, wills and other public documents had to be signed somehow, so those who were unable to write merely made their mark. The solemnity of affixing one's signature to such binding agreements led, in a highly religious age, to making such marks in the form of a cross that the signer would kiss as a pledge of good faith and as an act of reverence. Thus the cross on paper became associated with the kiss.

Doom of the Mississippi

Steamboating on the Mississippi received its first setback in the general disruption of ordinary business caused by the Civil war. And it was just beginning to recover when more sinister opposition appeared in railroad competition and as the steamboats supplanted the old hand-propelled broad-horns and keel-boats of an earlier time, so the speedier railroads gradually took away all through river traffic and the great Mississippi packets were a thing of the past.

Purple in Snail Shells
In the days of ancient Rome the purple in the shell of certain snails was used in the making of Tyrian purple, a dye reserved for the nobility. The snail used this ink to create a smoke screen about itself in time of danger. Other species of snails are known to bear poison glands which enable the snail to eject a stream of poison several inches. The highly ornamental shells of several species are used as umbrella handles.

Growth of Brazil
Brazil has an estimated population of nearly 45,000,000, and is growing at the rate of a million a year. It has more than half of all the people in South America. It has nearly one-half of the whole Latin population in the Western Hemisphere, from the Straits of Magellan to the Rio Grande. It is a country of a hundred thousand square miles larger than the United States without Alaska and the Philippines.

Races Have Odor
It is quite possible that other races can detect the odor of the white race. Deniker, in his "The Races of Man," refers to the fact that certain travelers have asserted they could recognize a population by its odor. The author admits that some ethnic groups have their specific odor, which gets fainter with scrupulous cleanliness, but never disappears.

He said that all of the boys were very anxious to see how the fires were fought, until they had their fire experience. They did not look forward to the task after that.

Chorus Members

Have New Song Books
New song books have been obtained for chorus and glee club. These new books are very interesting and contain a great variety of compositions. More interest will undoubtedly be shown in these organizations since the change has been made.

Sequoit Start

Basketball Practice
As time for the beginning of the basketball season draws near, Coach Sutor is working his squad of candidates hard. Intramural sports have been dropped and the whole attention of the boys has been turned to tossing the ball at the hoops. Much has to be accomplished yet, but it is our earnest hope that it will be accomplished and that the Sequoia will finish high in the standings of the Northwest Conference.

The Antioch Grade School baseball team defeated the Gurnee team here last Friday afternoon 22 to 3, in the final game of the fall series of conference schedule, thus ending the season with a perfect average of wins for the six games played.

The starting line-up was as follows: Francis Padul, Billy Teichert, Maurice Verkest, Charles Hostetter, Winsor Dalgard, Jimmy Harvay, Steve Wasko, Robert Strang, Roger Williams and Bob Burke. Others taking part in games were: Bob Hawklus, Billy Girard, Bob Hunt, Raymond Bedko, Gordon Pierce, Roger Brogan, Danny Palaska, Gordon Knott, and Henry Quendenfeld.

Nerves in the Skin
Skin is the external integument of vertebrates, consisting of the epidermis or cuticle and the dermis or corium. The epidermis is composed of stratified ectodermal epithelium without nerves or blood vessels. The inner layer or dermis contains abundant blood vessels and nerves and is composed mainly of connective tissue.

Chinese Jews
The only known Chinese Jews have lived in Kaitung, China, since 1163 A. D. For several hundred years, they kept their colony apart from the Chinese. Today, however, after numerous generations of intermarriage, the few who are left have almost entirely lost their original racial characteristics.—Collier's Weekly.

River Like a Sea
The Amazon river is navigable for 3,000 miles, the distance between New York and London. With its tributaries it comprises the largest river system in the world. In many places the Amazon looks more like a sea than a river.

AMUSEMENTS

Vodvil at the Gateway

Another show of selected vaudeville direct from the ace houses of Chicago is offered at the Gateway Theatre, Kenosha, this week end.

On the Gateway screen with perfect sound will be seen a real thriller, "Night Alarm."

Milt Herth, organist, is always at his beat. Come and sing your favorite songs with him.

"Student Toer" with Jimmy Durante is coming to the Gateway Monday and Tuesday, and "The Girl of the Limberlost" will be the screen attraction from Wednesday to Friday.

Radio Talent on

the Genesee Stage

The stage attraction at the Genesee Theatre in Waukegan Sunday, October 21st, promises a most entertaining variety of stage and radio talent. The show is headed by those Rural Radio Rascals Polly Jenkins and the Plowboys in a "Barnyard Musical Comedy." They come from the New England country and are authentic "Hill Billies." They first appeared on Boston radio station programs but now boast of having broadcast over 100 different stations.

Another radio favorite on the Sunday program is Jack McAllen, assisted by Sara and Sasafra in their comedy offering "What's It All About."

Wilbur Hall known as the Ticking Tunester has a novel offering. Hall was formerly the featured trombonist with Paul Whitman's orchestra.

The DeGuehl Japs who come direct from an engagement at the Palace in Chicago are a group of five amazing "Nipponese Athletes."

Naro Lockford & Co. present "A Dance Humoresque." The company consists of Lili Marlino, Harold Hart, Andrea Severia, and Bob Bode.

On the Screen.
The most entertaining of the entire series of "Chan" thrillers, "Charlie Chan in London" will be the screen attraction at the Genesee Theatre Sunday. Warner Oland again portrays the role of the bland Chinese detective. The supporting cast includes Drue Leyton, Ray Milland, Mona Barrie and Alan Mowbray.

Your Automobile
Your spark plugs fire over 10,000 "shots" in every mile. Worn or dirty spark plugs misfire and unburned gas discharges in the exhaust pipe without producing power. This wastes gasoline—usually one out of every ten gallons. Spark plugs should be properly cleaned and the firing points readjusted at least twice a year. This will save gasoline and give better pick-up.

Reunion Island French Colony

The "Keystone State"

On the Fourth of July, 1774, the Continental congress convened in Philadelphia to vote upon adoption of the Declaration of Independence and thus decide whether the thirteen colonies should secede from the British empire. Before the Pennsylvania delegation arrived, notes G. H. Turner in the Kansas City Times, twelve states had voted, with the result that six were in favor of independence and six were opposed to separation from the mother country. When the Pennsylvanians came in, John Morton cast the deciding vote for independence. Thus Pennsylvania, by its vote, decided the great issue and rightly earned the popular name of "The Keystone State."

The Six Toughest

The six toughest plants in the United States are the cottonwood, rabbit bush, arnautie sumach, a shrubby pennyroyal, a yucca and the peculiar gymnosperm, Ephedra. They are so hardy that they are able to maintain themselves in the White Sands of New Mexico, a deposit that is 98 per cent pure gypsum, located in an area virtually without rainfall.

Blonds Always Win

That men have always preferred blond hair is supported by a number of facts in history. One of the best indications is that in the heyday of wigs it was the blond ones that were at a premium. The dark wigs were cheaper and made of horse or goat hair while the blond wigs were made of human hair.

Stowing Ship's Canvas

Seventeenth century captain's orders to stow some of the ship's canvas: "Haul down the foretopgallant sail and untopgallant sail! In with the aprisail! Let go the aprisail! topgallant sheets! Haul down the clew lines! In with the mizentopgallant! Cast off the topgallant bow lines!"

A Certain Egotism

"A certain egotism in the human mind," said Ill Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "persuades a man who is enjoying himself to believe that his fact alone should render others happy."

Tennessee

Territory that now constitutes the state of Tennessee was ceded to the United States government by North Carolina in 1790.

Why They Are Kisses

The small crosses or x's were at one time more important than as symbols indicative of youthful romance, writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. Their origin dates back to a time when few people could read and an even fewer number could write. Nevertheless, wills and other public documents had to be signed somehow, so those who were unable to write merely made their mark. The solemnity of affixing one's signature to such binding agreements led, in a highly religious age, to making such marks in the form of a cross that the signer would kiss as a pledge of good faith and as an act of reverence. Thus the cross on paper became associated with the kiss.

Doom of the Mississippi

Steamboating on the Mississippi received its first setback in the general disruption of ordinary business caused by the Civil war. And it was just beginning to recover when more sinister opposition appeared in railroad competition and as the steamboats supplanted the old hand-propelled broad-horns and keel-boats of an earlier time, so the speedier railroads gradually took away all through river traffic and the great Mississippi pack-ets were a thing of the past.

Purple in Shell Shells
In the days of ancient Rome the purple in the shell of certain snails was used in the making of Tyrian purple, a dye reserved for the nobility. The small used this ink to create a smoke screen about itself in time of danger. Other species of snails are known to bear poison glands which enable the snail to eject a stream of poison several inches. The highly ornamental shells of several species are used as umbrella handles.

Growth of Brazil
Brazil has an estimated population of nearly 45,000,000, and is growing at the rate of a million a year. It has more than half of all the people in South America. It has nearly one-half of the whole Latin population in the Western Hemisphere, from the Straits of Magellan to the Rio Grande. In area it is a couple of hundred thousand square miles larger than the United States without Alaska and the Philippines.

Races Have Odor
It is quite possible that other races can detect the odor of the white race. Deniker, in his "The Races of Man," refers to the fact that certain travel have asserted they could recognize population by its odor. The author admits that some ethnic groups have their specific odor, which gets fainter with scrupulous cleanliness, but never disappears.

Prevention Talk

Last week being fire prevention week, an interesting talk about forest fires was given by Lars Steffenburg, Friday morning in the high school assembly. Lars was in the C. C. C. during the summer months, and could, of course give first hand information concerning the matter. He said that all of the boys were very anxious to see how the fires were fought, until they had their fire experience. They did not look forward to the task after that.

Basketball Practice

As time for the beginning of the basketball season draws near, Coach Suter is working his squad of candidates hard. Intramural sports have been dropped and the whole attention of the boys has been turned to tossing the ball at the hoops. Much has to be accomplished yet, but it is our earnest hope that it will be accomplished and that the Sequoits will finish high in the standings of the Northwest Conference.

The Antioch Grade School baseball team defeated the Gurnee team here last Friday afternoon 22 to 3. In the final game of the fall series of conference schedule, thus ending the season with a perfect average of wins for the six games played.

Radio Talent on

the Genesee Stage

The stage attraction at the Genesee Theatre in Waukegan Sunday, October 21st, promises a most entertaining variety of stage and radio talent. The show is headed by those Rural Radio Rascals Polly Jenkins and the Plowboys in a "Barnyard Musical Comedy." They come from the New England country and are authentic "Hill Billies." They first appeared on Boston radio station programs but now boast of having broadcast over 100 different stations.

Another radio favorite on the Sunday program is Jack McMullen, assisted by Sara and Sessafra in their comedy offering "What's It All About."

Wilbur Hall known as the Tickling Tunstun has a novel offering. Hall was formerly the featured trombonist with Paul Whiteman's orchestra.

The DeGuchi Japs who come direct from an engagement at the Palace in Chicago are a group of five amazing "Nipponese Athletes."

Your Automobile
Your spark plugs fire over 10,000 "shots" in every mile. Worn or dirty spark plugs misfire and unburned gas discharges in the exhaust pipe without producing power. This wastes gasoline—usually one out of every ten gallons. Spark plugs should be properly cleaned and the firing points readjusted at least twice a year. This will save gasoline and give better pick-up.

Three wrongs righted three members of my family made happy

just by changing the lighting in our home

My husband suffered from constant headaches till you saw "Better Sight" lamp booted them.

Changing the shade on Jimmy's reading lamp gave him renewed interest in his home work.

Dorothy squinted constantly, until the reading lamp in her room was changed.

Avoid eye strain with proper light. Send today for our free lighting test of your home.

IN two out of three homes, say lighting experts, incorrect lighting threatens eyes. To protect eyes, 20 to 30 foot-candles of light should fall on the printed page. This should be properly diffused with no glare, no deep shadows, no contrasts to cause eyes to change focus frequently. Under such lighting eye tension is relieved. Your body relaxes. Your nerves relax, too.

Many homes lack correct lighting

Most women would be only too glad to give their families the benefit of safe lighting; to protect the eyesight of their children. But they have no way of measuring the kind of light their lamps give. And so night after night eyes struggle on with danger of permanent injury.

How to get it

In the last few years some wonderful discoveries have been made about proper lighting. Lighting engineers have found that just by changing the position of shades, by raising or lowering the height of bulbs, and by designing a special kind of "light reflecting" shade, these handicaps to eyesight are completely overcome. Your Public Service Store has a variety of these properly designed lamps for sale. They are beautiful as well as safe for eyes. Come down and see them and at the same time learn, from our better lighting display, simple and easy ways in which you can improve the lighting in your home. And get Free, a marvelous little device called "The Lighting Tapa Measure," which enables you to tell quickly whether or not each lamp in your home is providing safe light. Act at once. Don't allow the eyes in your family to struggle unaided another night.

Which is YOUR lamp?

Lamp 1. Bulbs too low, sides of shade too sloping. Result—glare, deep shadows, eyestrain. Lamp 2. Bulbs at right height, shade of correct design. Result—restful light, precious eyesight protected. FREE at your Public Service Store, "Lighting Tapa Measure" to test your lamp. Get it today.

Old Clothes Have Their Day In Clothing Clinic

Home Adviser Shows How Old Clothes May Be Made Over

How the small boy can be well-dressed with a remodeled pair of his father's old trousers; while mother can make over last year's dress into this year's style was demonstrated in a clothing clinic which Home Adviser Florence Kimmelschue held at Farmer's Hall at Grayslake on Tuesday, October 16, in co-operation with the home economics extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Featuring the clinic was an exhibit of made-over clothing for children which the college obtained from the bureau of home economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Miss Edna R. Gray, clothing specialist, of the college staff, was in charge of the clinic and exhibit.

It is no new thing for mothers to make over old clothes or to adapt new materials to new uses, but there were some ideas on designs and adaptive possibilities in the clinic and exhibit.

This year it will be easier to make new clothes from those of previous years than it has been for several years past, and women attending the clinic were shown how to do it. They brought old dresses or garments to the meeting, where they were given suggestions and ideas for remodeling and changing them to make them conform to 1934-35 styles.

The exhibit of made-over children's garments featured, among other things, a boy's outfit including not only a neatly tailored and very smart adaptation of his father's trousers, but also of his father's shirt, which was made into a blouse for the boy. The trousers were dark blue wool and the shirt was light blue cotton. Another boy's suit was made of two large-size salt sacks. For a little girl there was a coat dress made from two 98-pound flour sacks, dyed pale green. For the baby there was a romper made from dad's old shirt, and another one made from a sugar sack.

Salt Sacks Are Used.

The salt bags are more like crash. The material is a fairly coarse cotton weave of blue and white threads, and lends itself well to tailored effects. Not all salt bags are made of the particular material, but a great many are. They are the size of big flour sacks and are used for the kind of salt farmers buy for their livestock. Flour sacks, of course, have long been adapted to household purposes, as dish towels and dusters. But they look surprisingly new and different when dyed and cut into garments. Both the salt bags and the flour and sugar sacks come with labels printed on them. These can usually be taken out by scrubbing with hot water and soap and then boiling them for half an hour.

The garments in the collection were for children of different ages, and two were for creeping babies. There was a young woman's jacket and skirt of the salt bagging with a blouse of scrap material, and a child's dress made of flour sackling dyed green. There was also a play suit made from a woman's knitted wool dress, with wristlets, anklets, and cap made of an old red bathing suit.

With the exhibit were photographs of the piece of material from which the garments were cut, with patterns, laid out upon them to show how each garment is worked out. The garments were made in the bureau's division of textiles and clothing by cutting them according to the cloth. All the children's garments follow the hygienic and self-help principles embodied in all the bureau's own designs.

The Wandering Jew

The Wandering Jew was a legendary character who was supposed to have been doomed to wander until the second coming of Christ because he taunted Jesus as he bore the cross. This legend first appeared in a pamphlet supposed to have been printed in Leyden about 1002 and it relates how one Paulus von Elzers had met a Jew, Abasuerus, who had declared himself "eternal" and the original Jew punished by Christ. The pamphlet gained wide circulation and led to reports of the Wandering Jew being seen in many places.—Pathfinder Magazine.

History Is Lacking

History tells us little about the movements for commerce, which always advanced civilization; but much about movements for conquest, which often destroyed it.

Wools Go Into Stitches

Christine Hunter has designed a cardigan sweater for the first cool days of autumn. It is made of navy blue Vlyella yarn, in a stitch that is so simple that it holds no pitfall for amateurs. And, professional touch, it is trimmed and fastened with brown leather buttons. It is worn with a blue, grey and white checked Vlyella flannel skirt and a blue Vlyella flannel hat.

Helen Hall has designed a two-piece dress and made it of Bear Brand Crope Boucle yarn in a rich brown. The pleats in the skirt are actually knitted in, and the blouse has an attached scarf collar dotted in blue. With all its chic, this costume is not too difficult for an amateur knitter. It is worn with a brown felt hat, a mustard suede bag and hand stitched gloves.

Emmy Lou Willey uses a boldly ribbed stocking stitch for a two-piece knitted dress in cocoa-brown, and then, in smart contrast, trims the blouse with a pale blue collar and tabs. If you're not ambitious, the blouse, with its amusing scarf that crosses and buttons in back, can be knitted alone.

Mrs. Budge will be at Marianna's dress shop every Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning to show you how to knit or crochet these lovely new things.

The Rows of Chester

The Rows of Chester, England, are passageways along the fronts of floors of houses over the ground floor and under the front part of the upper floors so that the upper story is available for shops. The Rows are reached from the street by stairs.

Breed Is Best

Statistics are said to prove that breed is the most nourishing food in proportion to its price, followed by pears, potatoes, butter, cheese, milk, apples, eggs, and beefsteak, in that order.—Answers Magazine.

Guide Book Written 174 A. D.

Guide books for travelers are far from new; Pausanias wrote a guide to Greece about 174 A. D.

Modern Diet High in Sugars and Starches

The modern American diet is high in starches and sugars. Possibly this is one cause of tooth decay. As proof of this idea two scientists counted the decayed teeth in the jaw bones of the prehistoric and living Eskimos in Alaska. Only 6.5 percent of the prehistoric Eskimos had carious teeth, whereas 24 percent of the living Eskimos had more or less dental decay. The prehistoric Eskimos ate walrus, seal, and fish with a very few vegetable foods, whereas the modern Eskimo living in proximity to white settlements eats a diet much more like ours. Eskimos that live in isolated regions today, where they still eat mostly fish have almost perfect teeth.

Indian tribes that lived on the sea coast of America left great mounds of shells showing that they consumed a good deal of shell fish. They had practically perfect teeth. The Indians (farmers) living in the Southwest ate largely corn and grain products. Their skulls show badly decayed teeth. It would seem that in the past at least, the meat eating races had better teeth than the grain eating races. In support of this theory we might cite the fact that diabetic children who must live on a diet practically devoid of sugar and including very few starchy foods (no pastries, no cakes, and no sweet desserts) have perfectly sound teeth. Our medical men are watching these diets very carefully.

Making The Home More Livable

Lamps Must Qualify For Seeing As Well As Decoration

By Jean Prentice

THE living room needs dressing up! This is the decision of many a home maker who, at this time of the year, casts a long critical glance at the center of family life for the longer evenings—the living room—and decides that something must be done. She does well to give particular attention to the selection of floor and table lamps, because here at her fingertips is a chance to enlist the magic of lovely and adequate light.

Not with just ANY lamp of course! Big strides have been made in the style and lighting qualities of lamps, and the one that Aunt Sue gave to Mary on her wedding day may be wholly inadequate now.

The lamps pictured here have scientific sanction for several reasons. The one beside the chair boasts a brand new feature straight from the research laboratories. In its upper portion it has one single bulb that, by a twist of one's wrist, can be made to give three different amounts of light.

A white glass bowl within the shade sheds a big cone of cheerful light downward. The lamp is not an oasis of light in a desert of darkness in your room, however, for the bowl reflects light upwards also. The three-candle unit showing beneath the shade is mainly for decoration, but can be used for additional reading light.

Points to remember are that a floor lamp should be 54 to 64 inches high, conforming with the decorative scheme. It should radiate light on the rest of the room as well as your book. If it has a light-colored shade, that "certain something" called "tone" will be added. To get the most out of a floor lamp, bulbs totaling at least 120 watts should be used.

Other arrangements of living room furniture call for different types of lamps.

The two bridge lamps at top left illustrate important points. A shade that must be tilted causes glare which is harmful to eyes. These bridge lamp shades make tilting unnecessary. Both can be adjusted by moving up or down. Each takes a 60 or 75-watt bulb.

And you'll want to hear about the floor lamp, below at right. It is the new Reading and Study Lamp approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society. Using a 100 or 150-watt bulb, it not only gives marvelous light to read by, but provides excellent general illumination.

Does the table lamp at bottom left seem a little larger than those generally used? It is—and should be if wanted for reading. Standing 18 to 22 inches high, it gives a sufficiently wide circle of light for your book or paper. With two 60-watt bulbs placed well within the shade it offers flexible light, using one or both bulbs.

Regardless of what lamps you finally decide upon, remember that the prime requisite is that they give adequate glareless light for seeing. Otherwise they have no place in an up-to-date living room.

Sells Butter to State Institutions

John Stelle, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer in Illinois, has acknowledged that he is interested in a dairy company in southern Illinois which has been selling butter to the state institutions. Governor Horner should have the Attorney General investigate this matter, since he was so insistent that some Republicans be investigated for alleged offenses not even remotely as clear as this case. Mr. Stelle says he had nothing to do with the matter, as he is not the purchasing agent for the state, but has the butter for sale.

U. S. CAN IDENTIFY MOST CRIMINALS

Fingerprints of 4,500,000 in Government Files.

Washington.—On file at the Department of Justice are 4,500,000 fingerprint cards bearing the tell-tale whorls and loops by which almost any criminal in the land can be identified.

To examine all these cards at the rate of one every ten seconds would require five years, working six days a week, eight hours a day.

But through an elaborate filing system, when prints are received for identification—it requires only 30 seconds to match them up with the department files.

And now J. Edgar Hoover, director of Uncle Sam's agents who wage a relentless war on gangsters, wants to cut that time to five seconds. Even 22 seconds saved might prove a decisive factor in an emergency, he pointed out.

The five-second record can be made by a "robot" searcher. It already has been applied to about 25,000 fingerprint cards and is being rapidly extended to others.

Toughly, this amazing machine works like this: Each of the ten fingerprints received from a law enforcement agency is analyzed separately and made into a composite diagram, punched into a card.

When a sample fingerprint is received for identification, the machine is "set" according to the type of the sample and the cards fed in. Miraculously, it flips out only a dozen or so of the cards most likely to correspond with the sample.

To establish an identification, it is necessary only to examine the fingerprint record represented by the selected punch cards.

Edison Disliked Decorations

Upon Thomas Edison's second trip to Europe the French Telephone company offered him a decoration which required that he wear a long sash. But the Ohioan flatly refused with the assertion that he couldn't stand that. Persuaded by his wife, he did however consent to wear the little red button of the League of Honor. But whenever he saw any American approaching he would slip the button into his pocket for fear, as he said, "they might think I am trying to show off."

It's a Great Life—While It Lasts

Gov. Horner's modesty knows no bounds. He has his name on the relief checks, it was "Gov. Horner Invites You" to the state fair—at 25 cents each, "Henry Horner, Governor" is to go on all state printing and now it is reported that "his friends" will ask the next session of the legislature for an appropriation to erect a statue of the governor on the east approach to the capitol, about half way between that building and the statue of Abraham Lincoln.
